

What are the Facts regarding Former Civilian Workers from the Korean Peninsula?

The Fact is the Agreement on the Settlement of Problems concerning Property and Claims and on the Economic Cooperation between Japan and the Republic of Korea of 1965 stipulates that the problem concerning claims is settled completely and finally.

The Fact is

the Agreement also stipulates that no contention shall be made with respect to any claims arising from the causes before the date of the signing.

However, on October 30 and November 29, 2018, the ROK Supreme Court ordered Japanese companies to pay consolation money approving the claim by former civilian workers from the Korean Peninsula who had worked for the company more than 70 years ago.

These decisions clearly violate the 1965 Agreement.

They not only overthrow the legal foundation of the bilateral relationship, but also pose a serious challenge to the post-war international order.
