Ambassador Hirayama's visit to CGCL

On the 26th January, Ambassador Tatsuo Hirayama visited Berth2 (the loading site for Methanol produced by Caribbean Gas Chemical Limited (CGCL) at the Port of Brighton, La Brea), to observe loading operations. The Ambassador was welcomed by the Chairman of the National Gas Company and National Energy, Mr. Conrad Enill, and General Manager, of La Brea Industrial Development Company (LABIDCO), Ms. Wendy Seow. Accompanying the Ambassador was his First Secretary, Mr. Nobuaki Hanawa, General Manager (Plant) at CGCL, Mr. Tony Sewdass and other CGCL officials.

Following the visit to the port, Ambassador Hirayama was received by CGCL's Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Pedro Arasa and the company's Chief Administrative and Strategy Officer, Mr. Nakaba Aoyagi where they held discussions on the current production and shipment of methanol from the plant. Mr. Arasa thanked Ambassador Hirayama for his unwavering support to CGCL over the years. The Ambassador has served in the Caribbean region for the past 3 years and will soon depart Trinidad and Tobago.

Ambassador Hirayama congratulated CGCL on the successful launch of its plant and the many successes of the company following this, including its one million tonnes of methanol 'loaded' which was carded to be achieved by the next loading on January 27th 2022.
